History of the U.S.S. Aeoles

Sidney, N.Y.: Ralph B. Caswell [1919]

$300

First edition. Octavo. [24]pp. Stapled brown wrappers, illustrated with an American flag. Owner's penciled name on titlepage, slight corner creases at the bottom of the pages and a little wrinkling on the front wrap, very good. Brief but interesting account of the U.S.S. Aeoles, formerly the "Grosser Kurfurst" of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, from its commissioning in Hoboken, N.J. by the U.S. Navy in 1917 as a troop ship, until it was decommissioned in late 1919. Includes accounts of each of its transatlantic voyages. OCLC locates no copies. [\[BTC#208317\]](#)
