Quarto. Stapled illustrated wrappers. Just about fine with the rear cover foldout in nice condition. The front wrapper is graced with a Bunnie Yeager photo of a cheerleader and is captioned as "The College Issue: Lush Life of a Miami Co-Ed". The featured pictorial is of co-ed Carrie Price pictured on a Miami campus doing co-ed stuff, mostly tastefully clothed, with the sole exception of the central image of her studying in just her lace panties, sneakers, and sweat socks beneath a pennant for "State". Also includes an interview with Lenny Bruce, Charles Beaumont's "The Howling Man", written under the name C.B. Lovehill (the basis of a Twilight Zone episode), Nat Hentoff on "The Last Days of Billie Holiday", and "There's One on Every Campus" by Harlan Ellison. [BTC#393000]
