Lygoria V. Maynor

History of Beauty Culture

Chicago: Printed by F.S. Banks Advertising and Letter Service [1947]

First edition. 12mo. [39]pp., frontispiece portrait of the author. Illustrated pale pink wrappers. A few pages with narrow margins (from a printer's error) touching the edges of a few letters, small stains in text and a very light stain in top corner of the front wrap, else very good or better. According to the author's printed biographical information, Maynor was born in Savannah, Missouri, worked in beauty shops in Kansas City, Texas, Omaha, and other places before settling in Chicago, and was the Past President of the Cook County Association of Beauty Shop Operators. Most of the book is devoted to the biographies of successful African-American beauticians. OCLC locates no copies. [\[BTC#393606\]](#)
