Two Women in Western Garb*
[circa 1900]

Two studio cabinet images, one each of two young women in similar (or perhaps identical) Western garb: with bull whip, handgun, trousers, boots, spurs, and hat. In one image the woman holds a handgun at her side and gestures towards the foreground with the bull whip dangling from her wrist; in the other the woman stands with one foot on a stump, holding gloves and a bull whip in one hand, and a cigarette in the other. Each image is 4" x 5½" mounted on a 6" x 8¾" card. Images are very near fine, the corner of one mount is lacking, scattered light dampstains on the versos, thus overall very good. Interesting and amusing images depicting women in "out-of-character" garb and poses. [\[BTC#393953\]](#)
