From Another Island: Adventures and Misadventures of an Airline Stewardess

New York: Chilton Books (1963)

First edition. Faint tape shadows on the endpapers, a little foxing on the top edge, else near fine in slightly rubbed very near fine dustwrapper. Behind the scenes look at the whacky adventures of a stewardess including accidentally inflating a life raft in the cabin thus threatening to crush the passengers, living in a Quonset hut in Guam, and deflecting the attentions of a few hundred married passengers. Uncommon.
