Wooden Standup Display for The Patchwork Girl of Oz

[circa 1913]

$3750

Wooden standup display. Measuring about 12" wide by about 15½" high. (Probably) hand-painted in several colors on die-cut or jigsaw-cut board. There is a narrow notch along the top edge which may have held a printed advertising card (not here present). Presumably what would have been an original base is lacking and has been replaced with a modern substitute. Slight rubbing on the paint, but bright and lovely, with no obvious signs of touch-up. A rare Oz display piece with terrific visual appeal. [\[BTC#399536\]](#)
