A travel photo album collected through 1937 and 1938 while on a trip that took them through Canada and Hawaii to their eventual destination in Fiji. Opening with approximately 20 images in Central Canada in July of 1927, which capture the rugged scenery and landscape of Canada including Alberta, Lake Louise, and the Valley of the Ten Lakes. From there they travel Hawaii later in the summer of 1937 beginning in Honolulu with photos of Waikiki Beach and Diamond Head before taking the ship Ormanda to Fiji, where most of the images in the album were taken. In Fiji the group travels through the jungle to the Navua River, where they photograph the tropical landscape, swimming, and photographing the riverbanks and palms. They were also interested in the more picturesque elements of the native population and took several photographs, one of which shows a native Naduruloulou at work plowing fields. Later they travel to Mbengga and watch as natives there perform ceremonies in traditional attire and participate in fire walking. There are also photographs of a native Fijian carrying one of the tourists on his back walking across the Waidina River.

An interesting collection of travel photography with an emphasis on Fiji and its islanders. [BTC#400042]
