

Mr. P.C. Reeringh

Buchenwald: mijn dagboek [Buchenwald: My Diary]

e-Gravenhage: Mr. P.C. Reeringh (1945)

$2500

First edition. Quarto. 58 mimeographed leaves printed rectos only, with ten unnumbered inserted pages with printed plates, mostly two to the page. Printed stapled wrappers. Text in Dutch. Rear wrap detached, very cheap paper browned with a modest chip at the top corner of the first couple of leaves affecting no text, a good copy.

The illustrations by the author are primitive renderings of life in the camp, including including one of an internee being flogged. The author was a 55-year-old lawyer from The Hague captured in October 1940 and brought to Buchenwald. He writes a clear and succinct diary, with a certain literary skill. In February 1941 he was released. His son was also imprisoned and died in a German camp. OCLC locates a single copy, at the Nederlands Instituut voor Oorlogsdocumentatie [Netherlands Institute for War, Holocaust and Genocide Studies] which also holds the manuscript. Their copy of the printed book collates differently, seemingly having both fewer pages and fewer plates. Rare. [BTC#402249]
