

June Pat Wetherell

Every Ecstasy

New York: Phoenix Press [1941]

$450

First edition. Fine in near fine dustwrapper with very faint dampstains along the edges of the flap folds. The novel's theory that "No woman can completely escape the man who first possessed her, though she never see him again" informs the plot as the female protagonist's obsession with her first boyfriend leads her faithful husband to drink at a local watering hole in order to calm his nerves. Jacket art by "H.L."

[BTC#407122]

EVERY ECSTASY

By
JUNE PAT WETHERELL

PHOENIX PRESS
419 Fourth Ave. New York City