

[Cabinet cards]: Members of the University of Vermont Class of 1893 with related drawings

Various places, mostly in Vermont: 1893

$600

48 separate cabinet card photographs. Each is approximately 4¼" x 6½". Various photographer's markings, mostly from Vermont, a couple from Massachusetts. One card has a slight crease, else all are near fine or better. Of the 48 cards, three are duplicates, we suspect a couple of the others might be variant poses of a student who is already represented here, but approximately 42 or 43 are of distinct students. Nearly half are signed or otherwise identified, usually indicating that were from from the University of Vermont Class of 1893. Includes one of a woman graduate (but who is otherwise unidentified). Also laid in is a contemporary small envelope labeled

"Cap & gown drawings" which contains three small but attractive drawings on thin paper of University of Vermont graduating costumes, restively for Master of Science, Bachelor of Arts, and Doctor of Laws.
