Strangers Welcome

Broadside. 14" x 11".
Photographic portrait of Rumsey. Thin card stock. Slight chip in lefthand margin, modest age-toning, a couple of tiny tack holes, very good or better. Helen Gertrude Rumsey was the national evangelist of the W.C.T.U. and was particularly active in the first decade of the 20th century. She ran the twilight services at Ocean Grove, New Jersey for over a decade, which was one of the largest services in the country at the time. Interesting broadside advertising appearances by a female evangelist.
