

(George A. Craig, Eleanor G. Acheson, and C. Macdonough Russell)

History of the Middlesex County Chapter American National Red Cross 1914-1919

[Middletown, Connecticut?]: Middlesex County Chapter American National Red Cross 1919

$200

First edition. 12mo. 32pp. Illustrated from photographs. Stapled and printed self-wrappers. A trifle soiled, about fine. Historical account of the Chapter's activities during and in the immediate aftermath of the War, with lists of members, Signed in facsimile at the end by the members of the History Committee, the presumed authors. One of them, Eleanor G. Acheson, was the mother of future Secretary of State Dean Acheson. OCLC locates a single copy (Wesleyan). [\[BTC#409943\]](#) flag in France was like seeing a picture of friends at home, they said.

If there is any reward needed by those who were privileged to serve a long way behind the lines, surely it comes in the knowledge that this Chapter kept the faith entrusted to it, that somewhere it may have a place on the great service flag with the blue stars and the gold and rightly feel that it has helped to place the Red Cross flag among the flags of the Allies, that stand for everything that is best in Heaven and Earth.

History Committee

George A. Craig

Francis G. Acherson.

E. Macdonough Russell

Approved by Chapter Chairman.

W. W. Wilcox