A nice collection of amateur photography documenting a Maryland beach vacation in 1909. [BTC#419791]
