1915

$250

Octavo measuring 6" x 8½".
String-tied green paper wrappers.
Contains 9 black and white silver gelatin photographs all measuring 2½" x 4½" with captions. Near fine album with some edgewear with near fine photographs. A small handmade photo album of a group of freshman girls at an unnamed college in 1915. Most of the pages include a photo of one of the women with a handwritten caption such as "she sighed and looked and sighed again" and
"first in flight." One photo shows a woman holding a camera with the caption, "how cheerfully she seems to grin." A modest but nice collection of women attending college in 1915. [BTC#422382]

First in the fight.

The rule of three, it puzzles me,
And fractions drive me mad.

Pride goeth before a fall.

How cheerfully she seems to grin.
