First edition. Trade paperback. Octavo. 292, [4]pp. Illustrated from photographs. Cover Art by Paul Foreman. Edgewear, faint crease, and tiny spots on the wrappers, about very good. Self-published memoir and defense by a black police officer who claims to have discovered malfeasance and inconvenient facts about the raid by the FBI, Chicago Police and Cook County State Attorney's Office on the Black Panthers that resulted in the deaths of Fred Hampton and Mark Clark, and who was then accused by the same FBI informant, and eventually convicted, of murdering drug dealers, as he claims, to distract from misconduct by white officers and deflect blame onto black officers. Uncommon. [BTC#423199]
