(Sign): The Ladies' Home Journal. Subscription Agency. 1.50 A Year

[No place]: The Ladies' Home Journal [circa 1905-1910]

$3500

Reverse painting on stamped brass. Original wooden frame. Approximately 30" x 12¾". A little rubbing on the paint in the upper margin, else a handsome and near fine example. The painting on stamped brass process was patented in 1895; the subscription price would seem to indicate somewhere between 1905-1910. The head of Minerva, Goddess of Wisdom within a floral border in the lefthand margin. The Ladies' Home Journal was first published in 1886 and by 1903 it became the first American magazine to reach the landmark of a million subscribers. A lovely and graphically interesting artifact. [BTC#423332]
