$1200

First edition. Tall octavo. 345pp. Illustrated. Light blue pictorial cloth stamped in red, white, dark blue, and gilt. A little rubbing on the gilt on front board, else about fine. Includes a chapter on Susan B. Anthony's Birthday on February 15th between pages [141]-157 celebrating Anthony and women in general.

On page 144 is pictured a bust of Anthony by Adelaide Johnson, a sculptor who created the first monument to the Women's Movement, the Portrait Monument to Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Susan B. Anthony, which stands in the United States Capitol Rotunda. This is Johnson's own copy with her signature and address in New York (where she maintained a studio at 37 West 12th Street), and noting page 144 on the front fly. The article includes essays on Anthony and her co-workers by several women including Alice S. Blackwell. Johnson devoted herself to woman's rights and suffrage, and frequently created works celebrating prominent women. [BTC#423806]
