

[Loose Photographs]: Nurse Tintypes

Connecticut: J.F. Farrell circa late 1800s

$600

A collection of four tintypes featuring nurses from Connecticut in the late 1800s and early 1900s. The images measuring between 2½" x 4" and 4" x 6". Some rubbing else about near fine. The images show the women in uniform posed for portrait style images, three of which include paper frames. One of the women is posed next to a stack of luggage, another of two women shows one standing and the other holding a book. The largest image includes a stamp for a photography studio, J.F. Farrell from Waterbury, Connecticut. An interesting collection of images of nurses from the turn-of-the-century.
