

W.C. Walton

Juvenile Piety and Intelligence: Illustrated in the Life and Death of Margaret Ann Walton, daughter of the Rev. W.C. Walton, late of Hartford, Conn., formerly of Bethany, Virginia. To which is added, Remarks on the religious education of children, addressed to Christian parents

Hartford: Daniel Burgess & Co. 1835

$150

Second edition (stated). 12mo. 129, [3]pp. Frontispiece illustration. Publisher's lightly figured brown cloth with morocco title label gilt. Some spotting on the boards, modest foxing throughout, handsome and very good. Originally published in 1826. OCLC locates two copies of the 1826 first edition, and nine copies (over two records) of this second edition. [\[BTC#425069\]](#)

JUVENILE PIETY

AND

INTELLIGENCE:

ILLUSTRATED IN THE LIFE AND DEATH

OF

MARGARET ANN WALTON,

DAUGHTER OF THE REV. W. C. WALTON, LATE OF HARTFORD, CONN....FORMERLY OF BETHANY, VIRGINIA.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

REMARKS

ON THE

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION OF CHILDREN,

ADDRESSED TO

CHRISTIAN PARENTS.

SECOND EDITION.

HARTFORD.

DANIEL BURGESS & CO.

1835.

