

Howell Raines

Fly Fishing Through the Midlife Crisis

New York: William Morrow and Company (1993)

$350

Tenth printing. A bit of soiling on the boards and page edges, very good in near fine dustwrapper. A memoir by the author of The Whiskey Man and former editorial page director of The New York Times. Inscribed by the author to fellow Alabamian and African-American author Albert Murray: "For Albert Murray, In the hope that my description of friend fish can make you as hungry as yours made me. Howell Raines. 5/15/95." Murray has written Raines' phone numbers at home and at the Times.
