

Jean Ray

The Ebony Princess

Charleston, WV: The Printing Press, Ltd. / Jean Ray Productions 1993

$300

First edition. Illustrated by Kenneth Matthew Edwards. Octavo. 46pp., illustrated. Wrappers a little soiled, near fine or better. Charming DYI tale for children by an African-American woman from West Virginia, written for her own children. OCLC locates seven copies.

[BTC#432196]

The Ebony
Princess

by Jean Ray

First Edition

Cover and interior illustrations by Kenneth Matthew Edwards

The next day the warriors were sent out to look for Ebony once again, but this time the Queen said, "The one who finds my daughter shall have her hand in marriage. I will give my crown to Ebony, and they shall rule together."

All of the great Watusi warriors banded together with their spears to look for Ebony. "I shall find her, oh great Queen," one of the warriors said. "I shall find her," another said.