

[Photograph] British Soldiers on the First Mother's Day

London, England: August 8, 1916

$750

Sepia toned photograph measuring 8" x 6" mounted to card stock. Fine photograph with creasing on the card stock. A group photograph taken of soldiers celebrating the first Mother's Day in the United Kingdom during World War I. The holiday was started by aviator and Whitehead Aircraft Company executive, John Alexander Whitehead, to honor soldiers and their mothers. [BTC#436157]

1918

1918