Advertising banner promoting original stories published in the pulp magazine Argosy All-Story Weekly in 1923. Measuring 42" x 53" inches with grommets at all four corners. Printed in color on low-quality linen, the banners would have been hung by newsagents or bookstores. Not intended to last, these examples appear to have never been used. Some light yellowing; otherwise remarkably bright and fresh. Featuring a mystery by Max Brand. Excellent display piece. Rare. [\[BTC#437461\]](#)
